Newsletter—October 2024

Dear Church,

First thank you for your prayers for our daughter, Megan Byrd, and her family during Hurricane Helene. We heard from her on Monday morning. They all are well! However, their house took more damage than we expected. It appears a tornado came across from the back of the house. Part of the roof was ripped off. But overall it could have been so much worse. God protected them thru it all.

It will be sometime before they know what will be done regarding their home, but they have a place they can stay in the meantime there. Life for now is one day at a time. As it is for the whole region up there.

Looking ahead, there will be ways we can go and help people up there, but for now giving through organizations like NC Baptist on Mission is what I recommend.

Let us continue to pray for all of Western North Carolina.

Pastor Glen

Church, looking ahead to November, there is a big event happening in the community that I hope you will attend at least one of the meetings and also invite a friend to. The grandson of Billy Graham, Jonathan Lotz, will be speaking at the Kirby Theater on Nov. 3-6. He is the son of Ann Grahm Lotz. Everyday we see the effects of sin in our world, community and homes. We know the answer will not come thru the ballet box, the TV or the sporting arenas. Our only hope is hearts surrendered to Jesus Christ. History shows time and time again, God moving thru the proclamation of His Word. So let us do more than just attend. Let us pray that God will pour out His Spirit on Roxboro thru these meetings and let us in faith invite a friend who needs Jesus to go with us.

~Pastor Glen

This is a community event to share the Gospel
with our community.

Ladies, we invite you to join us Wednesday night, October 2nd, at 7 pm. We will begin the study by beloved Bible teacher, Max Lucado, "In the Footsteps of Jesus." You may purchase a study guide on Amazon to supplement the video teaching & group discussion. The book is suggested for deeper personal study but it is not required to join on Wednesday nights. Our desire is that, through this study, we will each have a deeper understanding of Jesus, his teachings, his humanity and his divinity. And ultimately that our own faith would be enriched and our vision for our own life clarified.

Join the Meal Train for Hunter and Brandon Lea as they welcome Baby Lea!

Here are some helpful tips:

Please arrive only between 5:30-6:30pm and keep visits to that one hour max unless specifically asked to stay

Please bring food in disposable containers only so Brandon and Hunter are not responsible for washing and returning dishes

Bonus points if you bring enough for them to have leftovers at lunch the next day

Look for ways to help Brandon or Hunter during your visit; wash dishes, care for the dogs, etc or hold the baby, if they offer, while they eat

Please understand some days will be harder than others or you may be visiting at a time Mom and baby needs privacy and it just may not be a great time to visit, so it may be drop-off and go

Please do not visit if you feel ill or have been around someone who is. A cancelled dinner plan is better than a sick baby

Please text Mikaela at 336-583-8472 if you have any questions so we limit bothering the new Mom and Dad in these precious moments.

Homecoming October 27, 2024—Celebrating 194 years

Rev. Stephen Pleasant had a vision of furthering his “Call to preach the Gospel” and in 1830 Clement Baptist Church was organized by him. During that time Rev. Pleasant also helped organize other churches in the area, as well as The Beulah Baptist Association.

Clement was found on the basis of missions, and has sustained on missions emphasis throughout the community and entire world by helping those who are serving on the mission fields as well the mission fields locally.

Homecoming is a special time at Clement. A time for families to come back home to Clement, a time to gather together, renew acquaintances, meet new friends, worship together.

You are invited to celebrate Homecoming on October 27th

Hal Dickerson will be our special speaker

All are invited to join in a meal and fellowship
after Worship Service
